

e-START Program Application Guidelines (Second Semester, AY 2025)

1. Purpose and Overview

(1) Purpose

The e-START Program is a new type of international collaborative program where Hiroshima University students work together with students from overseas universities on various tasks. The program aims to develop global competencies by using foreign languages and collaborating online with people from different cultural backgrounds.

(2) Overview

The program is mainly conducted during the year-end vacation period (some courses may start earlier). Participants will attend lectures by Hiroshima University faculty and partner university faculty on relevant themes and basic knowledge about the partner country/region. Students will then form groups with overseas students to engage in exchange activities and collaborative tasks, culminating in group presentations.

The e-START Program is offered as a liberal arts course, “Online International Collaborative Seminar (e-START) A” (1 credit).
