'A speaker of many languages'

From: Malaysia

Belongs to:

Graduate School of

Advance Science and Engineering

(PhD, 2nd year)

Speaker's message:

It has been about 3 and a half years since I first came to Japan. Being a Malaysian, I grew up learning three main languages; English, Malay and Mandarin. On top of that, I can also speak Cantonese, Hakka and some Hokkien. I picked up basic Japanese when I started living in Japan. All in all, you could say that I can speak 7 languages, which sounds like a lot, but these are all the languages that I grew up with and learnt along the way.
