3. Why Japanese Companies Employ International Students?

- ① To recruit excellent human resources regardless of nationality
- ② To carry out the assignments related to clients overseas
- ③ To hire foreign nationals who can work as executive candidates for overseas subsidiaries
- ④ To perform duties arisen from the newly launched business overseas.

Japanese companies have high expectations of international students who will work internationally with their specialized skills.

4. Schedule of Job Hunting

In Japan, we recommend you to start job hunting while you are still in school. Once you have decided the company that you want to be selected, you should check the recruitment activities schedule on the company's website at first. Global Career Design Center holds a variety of guidance and seminars. Please attend these events actively. You can see the schedule of guidance and seminars on Global Career Design Center website.
