3. Student stress

- Starting university can be a stressful experience. For international students, this might include leaving home and moving to a foreign country, meeting new people in a different culture and managing on a tight budget.
- You might find some signs of stress such as
 - irritability
 - sleep problems
 - anxiety
 - depression

Things that can help with stress

Short periods of stress are normal and can often be resolved by ...

- completing a task which cuts down your workload
- talking to others (friends, family, tutor, Univ. staff)
- having a more healthy lifestyle (eat well, exercise, get enough sleep, spend some time socializing)

Long-term stress can be difficult to resolve by yourself, and it's often best for you to seek professional help.

Don't struggle alone, Consult us !

- When you are worried about your health or when you are in trouble in campus life, please feel free to consult us.
