

A high-angle, wide shot of a modern university library atrium. The space is multi-level, with a ground floor and several upper levels. The ground floor features long wooden bookshelves, round wooden study tables with chairs, and people sitting and reading. The upper levels are also filled with bookshelves and study areas, with people visible on the balconies. The architecture is bright and open, with large windows and a clean, minimalist design. The text "Introduction to University Library" is overlaid in the center in a large, bold, black font with a white outline.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Hiroshima University Library. At the top left is the library logo and name. A search bar is located at the top center. On the top right, there are links for 'Hiroshima University', 'Library', 'Access', and 'Site Map'. Below the search bar is a navigation menu with items like 'Utilization Information', 'Search for Materials', 'Databases', 'Special Collections', 'Lectures and Consultations', 'About the Library', and 'Contact Us'. On the left side, there is a 'User Menu' with options such as 'Check Usage Status', 'Apply for Document Reproduction', 'Apply for Book Borrowing', etc. The main content area features a large banner for the library's Facebook page. To the right of the banner is a table showing the library's opening hours for various buildings on September 21, 2016. Below the banner is a search section with tabs for 'OPAC Book Search', 'Domestic Theses', 'Overseas Theses', etc., and a search input field with a 'Search' button.
