

A Guide for Harassment and Bullying Prevention

Harassment Consultation Office

When you or your friend are in trouble in your campus life.....

Hiroshima University has Rules for the Prevention of Harassment.
We support victims
and organize awareness-raising activities.

What Is Harassment?

Harassment includes so-called “sexual harassment”,
“power harassment”,
“academic harassment”,
and “moral harassment”.

It can arise ••

between peers

or

with your professor, senior,
and university official.

Harassment includes physical assault, verbal assault, scolding and abuse, the threatening, ignoring and ill-treatment of certain people, groundless accusation, throwing tantrums, discriminatory practices, unwanted conduct of a sexual nature, jokes of a sexual nature, and stalking.

For example (1)

Your supervisor strongly demands the results of a study from you, and if you cannot produce a good result s/he shouts at you aggressively and this drives you into a corner.

Example (2)

Your supervisor tells you, “Women are useless”, “Such a beautiful girl cannot get such good marks”,
or
“You must not fall in love until you get a degree”.

Example (3)

You are forced to describe your sexual experiences at a party.

Be aware!

You can become a victim of harassment.

You can also become an offender or an irresponsible bystander.

Think before you act.

Be aware!

Sexual coercion is a crime.

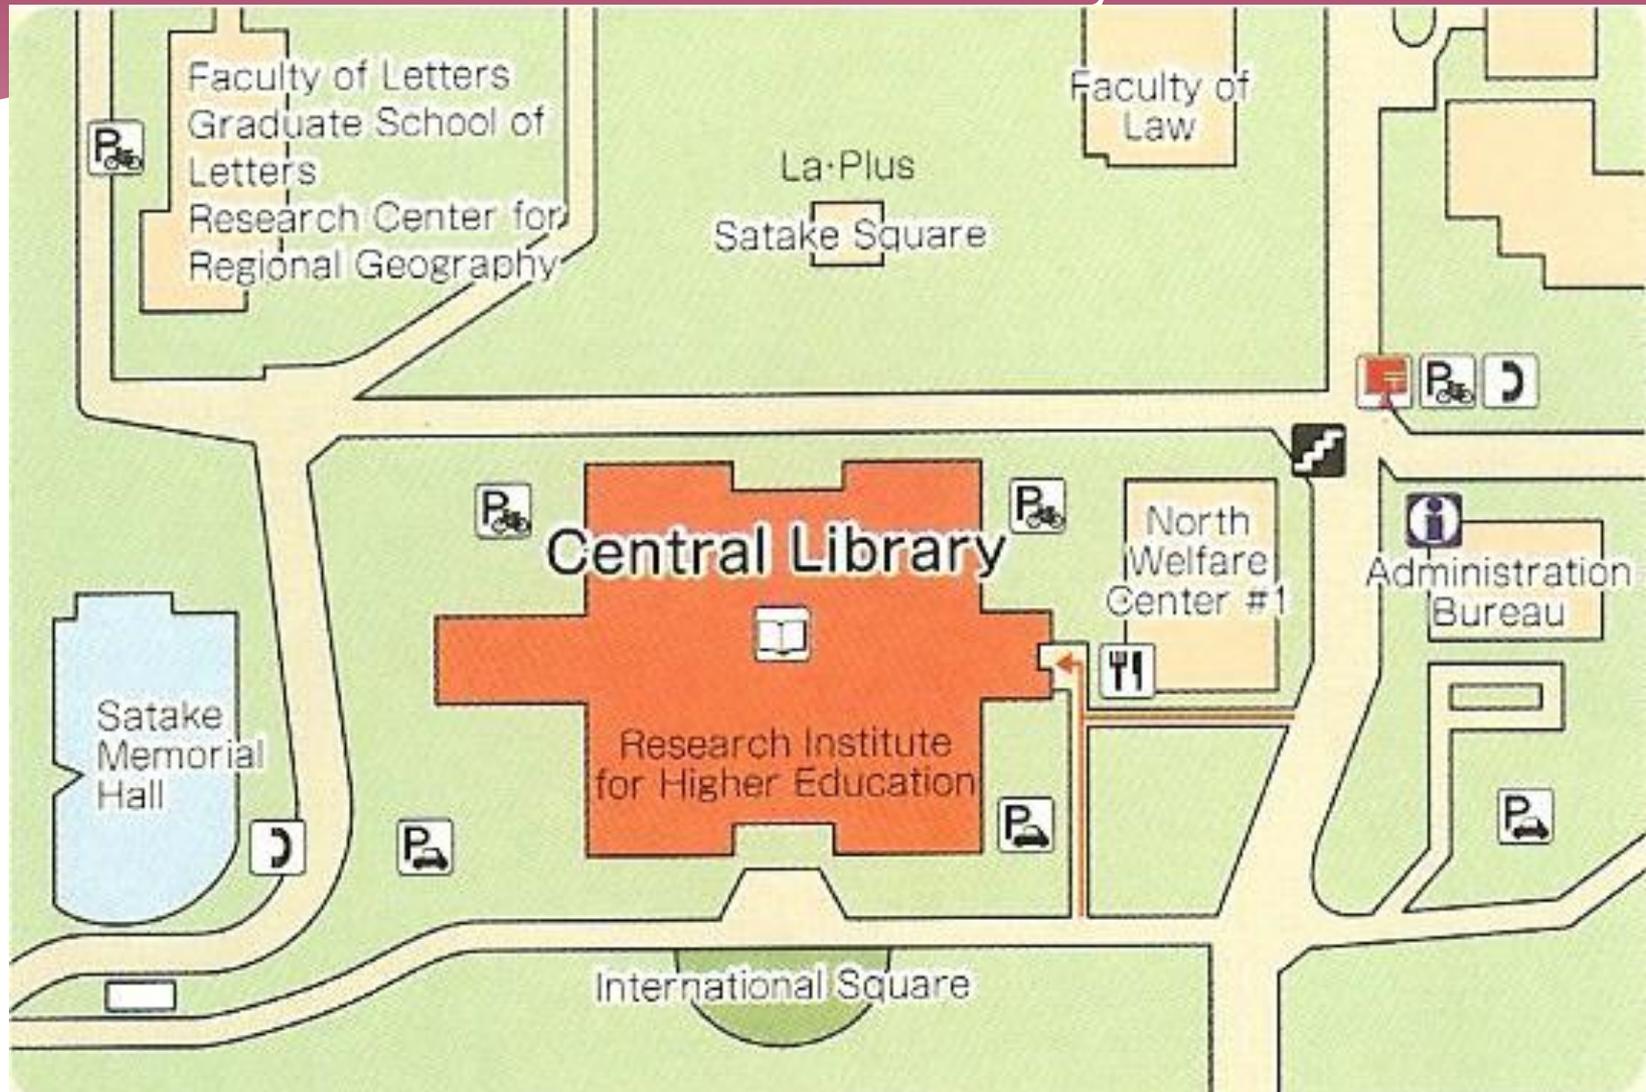

If you are involved in it, the university will take disciplinary measures.

The Harassment Consultation Office

is a facility under direct supervision of the President.
