

A high-angle, wide shot of a modern university library atrium. The space is multi-level, with glass railings on the upper floors. The ground floor is filled with bookshelves, study tables, and people engaged in reading and study. The lighting is bright and even, highlighting the architectural details and the activity within the library.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Hiroshima University Library. At the top left is the library logo and name. A search bar is located at the top center. On the top right, there are links for 'Hiroshima University', 'Library', 'Access', and 'Site Map', along with language options for 'Japanese' and 'English'. A navigation menu below the search bar includes 'Utilization Information', 'Search for Materials', 'Database', 'Special Collections', 'Lecture/Consultation', 'About the Library', and 'Contact Us'. A left sidebar lists user services such as 'Check Usage Status', 'Request Document Copy', 'Request Book Loan', 'Request New Book Purchase', 'New Book Alert', 'Bookmark', 'Add to Favorites', 'Review History', and 'Tag History'. The main content area features a large banner for the library's Facebook page. To the right of the banner is a table of opening hours for various library branches on 2016/09/21 (Wednesday). Below the banner is a search section with tabs for 'OPAC Book Search', 'Domestic Theses', 'Overseas Theses', 'Other University Collections', 'NDL', 'WorldCat', and 'In-house Academic Results'. The search section includes a search bar, a search button, and a list of search options at the bottom.
